

UNITED COUNCIL ON WELFARE FRAUD

PROFESSIONAL AFFIDAVIT OF WORK EXPERIENCE FOR CWFI APPLICATION

To meet the requirements to sit for the exam, you must have two years of experience in the field of public assistance program integrity work. There are three types of investigations that you may use as the basis to qualify:

- ADH – Welfare fraud investigations that are referred to an administrative disqualification hearing officer without further investigation by another person.
- FPI – Welfare fraud investigations referred by an eligibility worker prior to a person being certified for benefits. You must have been assigned to a group or unit responsible solely for performing this function.
- PROS – Welfare fraud investigations that are referred to a prosecuting attorney without further investigation by another person.
